VOL. 5. NO. 84 — MONESSEN, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2 1906. — SIX CENTS THE WEEK

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR TO BE IN GREENSBURG

Next Tuesday Evening to Speak to the People of old Westmoreland. Everybody Will Be Welcome.

Next Thursday, October 9th, will be a great day politically in Greensburg, Edwin P. Stewart of Philadelphia, Republican candidate for Governer of Pennsylvania, and his party will arrive in the county seat that day and in the evening Mr. Stewart will speak in St. Clair Theatre and a large crowd is expected to be present to greet the honored guests. Chas S. Cromwell, County Chairman of the Republican Organization, is busy preparing for the occasion, and an effort is being put forth to have a large attendance.

Republican leaders from the different towns throughout the county will be present. Many Monessen people will likely be present to hear Mr. Stewart discuss the issues of the campaign. He was in Meadville, last night and spoke to a large audience. He said in part:

"There is nothing in my acceptance of the nomination for governer of Pennsylvania which if elected will in any way interfere to prevent me from serving as Governer according to my oath of office, and in the interest of and for the benefit of the people. There is nothing in that acceptance which will prevent me from considering every law presented to me for my approval or veto, simply and exclusively from that standing of this point. 'Is it for the interest of the people of this state'?

"I pledge you here tonight that is the way I shall act, if elected to that position, and I am thoroughly satisfied and believe that it is the positive intention and wish of the Republican party of Pennsylvania that the various reforms promised in the platform shall be brought to a successful termination and placed as laws upon the statute books of the commonwealth."

Gathered by Our Reporters in Monessen and Vicinity.

Put away my screen door stockings and white dresses, mother dear,
For the calendar informe me that the autumn time is near.
My peek-a-boo shirt waists, of course, you'll also lay away,
With my summer hats and bonnets which have lead the season gay.
The glad fall days are coming
With the crimson on the trees,
And soon will be here humming
The chilly autumn breeze.

He is one of our pioneer business men. Mr. Lehto is an experienced plumber and has many friends in Monessen who will wish him success. He will do business at the old stand, corner of Schoonmaker avenue and Fourth street where he invites the public to call and see him.

GOOD PROGRAM AT THE "STAR."

Leonard and Fulton, who opened a week's engagement at the Star theatre last night, were greeted by a full house, at each performance. Their act, a comedy and society sketch, is a particularly funny one and the audience was well pleased with the able manner in which these well known artists performed. Alex, the comedy juggler, quickly proved his ability as an entertainer and his act pleased the people well.

Miss Josephine Woods appearing in the illustrated songs came in for a liberal share of applause, while the motion pictures presented "The Lone Highwayman," and "Gaities of Divorce," which are both quite interesting. The program changes Thursday evening.

Good Sized Audience.

The audience which greeted the repetition of the Operetta under the direction of Mrs. Butler, at the opera house last night was fully as large as that of Saturday night and all speak well of both performances. All who took part did well on both occasions and the general public commends Mrs. Butler as well as those who took part, for the success of the entertainment.

DIED QUITE SUDDENLY

Samuel I. Spratt, a well known resident of town, died very suddenly last evening of paralysis. He was taken ill while down street and was taken to his home where he died in a few moments. He leaves to mourn him a wife, three sons and a daughter. The eldest son, Thomas Spratt, is a foreman in the Tin Plate mill. No arrangements for the funeral have yet been made although interment will likely be made in Homewood cemetery.

CHARLEROI HAS AN AWFUL EPIDEMIC

Diphtheria Spreading Over the City Rapidly.—Fifty Cases Have Been Reported to the Health Board.

Start Mill With Non-Union Men.

The McClure Tin Mill company attempted to commence operations at its plant in Washington yesterday morning with non-union men. Union workmen allege the attempt was only partially successful and that a majority of the non-unionists were induced to leave. Company officials state they will have the plant in full operation before the end of the week.

Lost—Three and one half yards of plaid silk between Berryman's and Tenth street. Finder please leave at Dr. Evan's office. 84-2t

Charleroi has more than a threatened diphtheria epidemic, it is an epidemic in reality and great is the alarm which now prevails throughout the city. Fifty cases have been reported to the Board of Health up until noon today and there is great anxiety lest the disease gets a still greater hold. A number of cases of scarlet fever have also been reported but this has not caused as widespread alarm among the citizens of the Magic City as the diphtheria.

The public schools are suffering greatly on account of the disease. Yesterday there were one hundred and seventy-five pupils who remained at home, a number of these of course were from homes where there is a quarantine, others however did not report lest they come in contact with the disease. Very few deaths have occurred so far and the severest cases seem to be in a very mild form.

The Board of Health is doing everything in its power to get control of the situation so the schools will not have to be closed.

M. E. Conference.

The Pittsburg conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, including five important districts, will convene Wednesday in the First M. E. church of Butler, Pa., Rev. D. S. Johnson, pastor. The conference probably will be void of any sensational features, but the volume of business done by this body every year makes the sessions interesting. Not even a presiding elder is to be elected, and the only feature of excitement will be in connection with the appointments, which always cause some surprises.

AN exchange says there is a man living in the northern part of this state who has had three wives, is the father of twenty children and has not a gray hair in his head. It sounds like a Van Winkle story to us but it may be true

IF the dozens of teamsters who drive up the Sixth street hill would learn to use a little common judgement in loading their wagons, there would not be so many horses abused and so much time lost in getting to the top. Scarcely a day passes but what some one has trouble and it is nearly always the fault of the driver and the horse gets the thrashing.

MANY of the Monessen merchants have awakened to the fact that fall is here and consequently have their store windows all decked out in fine style and their counters and shelves loaded with an assortment of goods rarely found in cities of similar size and age, and are reaching out for business, ever on the alert to pick up a new customer and increase trade in all departments. This class of merchants deserve the success which pretty nearly always comes as a reward in return for the enterprise. Monessen has several of the finest stores in the country and now that the buying season is at hand let us teach ourselves to shop at home."

THE Altoona Tribune, one of the staunchest Republican organs in the state and one of the most ably edited papers that comes to this office, does not believe that public money has been squandered in connection with the construction of the State Capitol at Harrisburg. The Tribune believes that the rot that is being published and sent broadcast over the state by the Democratic papers and State Treasurer Berry, is purely and solely for political purposes. Brother Schwartz has reasoned the situation logically, for the people of this country well know that no great expenditure of public money can be made unless it brings forth criticism from those on the outside, it matters not how judiciously that money may be spent.

Gentle, Sure—Pleasant to Take—A Tried and True, Genuine, Nature's Remedy.

If you do not have free easy and regular movements of the bowels you lack the prime and first essential of good health. There's more harm done than most uncomfortableness, sluggishness and biliousness—retention of food wastes in the bowels, poisons, irritates and poisons. You make [illegible] the circulatory system [illegible] instead of a fountain of purest life and untainted vitality. The ills of constipation are not trifling but nearly always are fraught with vital significance. Seek your relief in Nature! Accept the gentle natural aid of Lax-ets! Be sure not to force and crowd the delicate organs of the stomach! Avoid all the danger of powerful and unknown medicines! Your safety and your health are always secured—if you take Lax-ets. The formula is on every box. Show it to your family physician. Lax-ets put up in a flat metal case and each Lax-et—one tablet taken before meals or on retiring always brings relief. Pleasing to take. Perfect and yet gentle of all remedies a combination of Nature's—a bowel tonic which secures constipation. Recommended and for sale by

Gentlemen: I bought three bottles of your medicine from my druggist. The medicine rendered me very good service, but I am sorry to say that the druggists here are all sold out of your medicine I should have bought six bottles instead of three. I will gladly take six bottles of the Nervine and Blood Tonic, and request that you write me, if you are able to read this, for I am rather old to write. I have suffered six years from NERVOUS TROUBLE, caused by a fall, and my whole body remained in a tremble, but no pain. Every doctor I consulted failed to help me, and I was compelled to give up all housework. Then I read your advertisement and bought your medicine, and almost immediately after commencing its use I was a new woman. I hope you will write me at once, and tell me how much money I must send, as I am anxious to get to using your medicine again soon. With most hearty regards, I remain,

A sweet breath adds to the joy of a kiss. You wouldn't want to kiss your wife, mother or sweetheart with a bad breath. You can't have a sweet breath without a healthy stomach. You can't have a healthy stomach without perfect digestion. There is only one remedy that digests what you eat and makes the breath as sweet as a rose—and that remedy is KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA. It is a relief for sour stomachs, palpitation of the heart, and other ailments arising from disorder of the stomach and digestion. Take a little Kodol after your meals and see what it will do for you. Sold by R. W. Beck.

If you will make inquiry it will be a a revelation to you how many succumb to kidney or bladder trouble in one form or another. If the patient is not beyond medical aid, Foley's Kidney Cure will cure. It never disappoints.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy,
After years of backache suffering,
Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
To find relief and cure?
No reason why any reader
Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The Kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

THE INDISPENSABLE MAN.

An Event That Moved Him to Take a Trip to Europe.

He was one of those men who believe that if they let up for a moment the whole world will go to smash. Especially was this so about his own business. When his wife wanted him to go to Europe for a rest he said:

"Impossible to get away from the office. Why, if I were to stay away six weeks there's no telling what would happen. No, I must be there all the time."

So they didn't go to Europe. Instead he got sick, good and sick, too, the kind of sick that kept him on his back for nearly a month and didn't let him get back to his desk for still another week.

The day came for his return to harness, and he plunged for the office. All the way downtown his mind danced with the visions of the wreck of business that would greet him. He expected to find the staff demoralized, the business gone to pieces, the cobwebs thick on the order books and an air of gloom hanging over all which could be dispelled only by his triumphal entrance. He fancied himself picking the business out of the mire and putting it on its feet again.

But did he? Not quite.

He entered the office. The boy was there and looked up at him as though wondering if the boss were not a little bit late. The cat rubbed against him as she always did. His desk was opened as usual, and on it was no pile of mail, the accumulation of all these weeks. The clerks were at their places as usual. In fact, nothing was apparent of the awful disaster that he had expected; hardly any one seemed to know that he had been away.

He stopped for a moment, breathless, and then managed to call one of his men to him and ask about something. The man began to tell him what had been going on. They had been transacting business just as though he had been there—answering mail, filling orders, taking reports from traveling men and sending them out again—in short, the little particular world of his business had gone on just as though he had been there all the time.

He heaved a sigh—a sigh of humility. In fifteen minutes he had telephoned his wife to make plans for a European trip, and that he would accompany her. Thus do matters make us see how small we are.—New York World.

THE WINDOW CURTAIN.

Originally It Was For Use and Not For Ornament.

The real purpose of the window curtain is to regulate the amount of light admitted to the room and a curtain so arranged that it cannot be drawn backward and forward at will is but a meaningless accessory. It was not until the beginning of the century that curtains were used without regard to their practical purpose.

The window hangings of the middle ages and of the renaissance simply were straight pieces of cloth or tapestry hung across the window without any attempt at drapery and regarded not as part of the decorating of the room, but as a necessary protection against drafts.

It probably is for this reason that in old prints and pictures representing the rooms of wealthy people curtains are so seldom seen. The better the house the less need there was for curtains. In the engravings of Abraham Bosse, which so faithfully represent the interior decoration of every class of French house during the reign of Louis XIII., it will be noticed that in the richest apartments there are no window curtains. In all the finest rooms of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the inside shutters and embrasures of the windows were decorated with a care which proves that they were not meant to be concealed by curtains. In fact, it would be more difficult to cite a room of any importance in which the windows were not so treated than to enumerate examples of what really was a universal custom until the beginning of the nineteenth century.

It is known, of course, that curtains were used in former times prints, pictures and inventories alike prove the fact—but the care expended in the decorative treatment of windows makes it plain that the curtain, like the portiere, was regarded as a necessary evil rather then as part of the general scheme of decoration. The meagerness and simplicity of the curtain in old pictures prove that they were used merely as window shades or sun blinds.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Consols by the Pennyworth.

It may not be generally known that a pennyworth of British consols can be purchased. Consols are not like shares, which are invariably of a certain denomination—£1, £5, £10, and so on—but can be divided up to any extent. It consequently happens that very small amounts of this lordly stock are bought to make up round sums, but no one can be registered at the Bank of England as a holder unless he has acquired enough to bring him in fourpence a year in dividends, and less than £1 will purchase a sufficient amount for that purpose.—London Saturday Review.

A Species.

"Mrs. Kwivvery is one of those anticipatory people, and I simply can't carry on a conversation with her without getting so nervous I feel as though I should fly to pieces," says the lady with the jade brooch.

"Anticipatory?" asks the lady without any long gloves. "How is that?"

"She listens faster than you talk to her."—Life.

Life, it is thanks to death that I hold thee so dear.—Seneca.

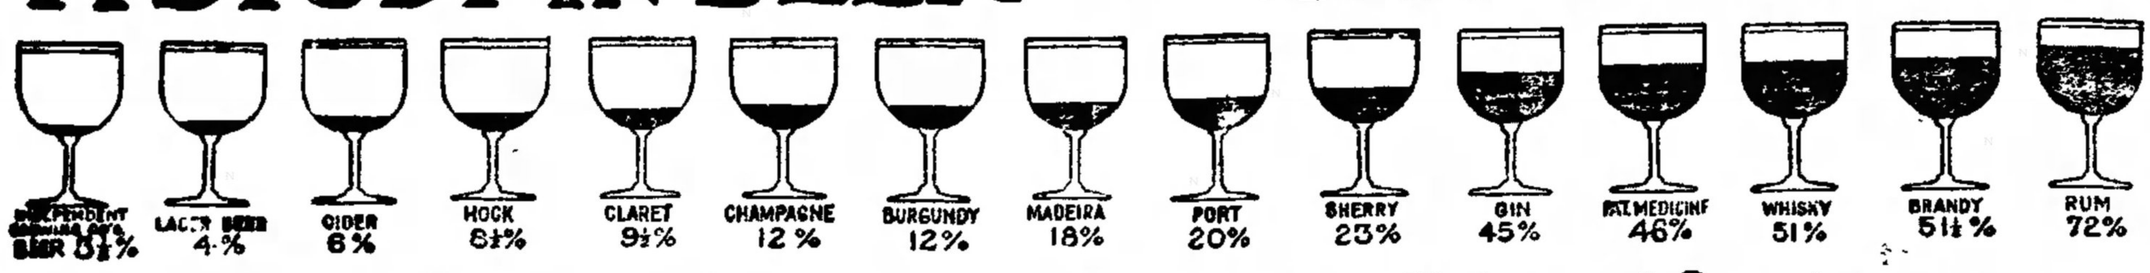
A STUDY IN BEER AT THE EXPOSITION



——Alcohol Contained in Various Beverages Shown by Dark Shadings and Percentages——

Independent brews are delightful in flavor, foody and pure.

The insignificant amount of alcohol which they contain—about 3½ per cent.—is immediately used in the creation of mental and physical energy.

Charles H. Treat, United States Treasurer, says: "The business and social life of the great city of New York is turning to beer and soft drinks.

"If you should walk into some of the great political and social clubs of New York to-day, organizations composed of the best business and professional men of the city, 75 per cent. of those sitting around the tables would be drinking soft drinks, in which I include beer as the foremost."

Aside from their own nutritious principles the beers of the Independent Brewing Co. are of proved value in aiding the stomach to digest other foods.

Physicians know this and prescribe them as meal-time beverages.

WEBSTER NOTES

A. A Perkins was in Monessen yesterday on business.

W. R. Butler was combining business and pleasure in Monessen yesterday.

The opening of the public schools here has been marked by a large attendance.

G. W. Kaufman, the obliging tonsorial artist at Conroy's shop, was transacting business in Monessen this morning.

It is a Donora chap who will no longer sit in the hall with his adored and tell her what he thinks of her. They're married.

It's a wise woman who can watch the jelly glasses she is filling and a mischievous small boy with a penchant for suddenly sliding his fingers into the sweetened mess when she pours it out.

"It isn't polite to make up a face when there is a company about," said a Webster girl to her little brother. "But you make yours up every time that beau of yours calls," retorted the sagacious youth.

The body of Owen Owens who died in a shanty boat here last week, still lies at the Kelly morgue, Donora. All efforts to locate any of his friends has thus far failed. No time for burial has yet been set.

A man can generally make satisfactory explanations to his wife on all ordinary subjects, but when she picks a long black hair off his coat which does not jibe with those in her own head, then it is that man feels what a poor, weak mortal he is.

A foreigner who works at the Budd mines and one employed at the Equitable, met last evening, and began discussing the merits of the respective company by which they are employed. A bang-up, rip-snorter of a scrap resulted, but friends interferred before they could do each other any serious injury.

Tendered a Shower.

The Monongahela Times of yesterday says:

"Mrs. Clifford Farquhar, nee Dunlevy, formerly of this city, but now living in Monessen, was tendered a miscellaneous shower on Friday evening last, at the home of her parents in Belvidere place, by a number of her friends. The members of the party were the bearers of many handsome and useful presents, which were evidence of the esteem in which the hostess of the evening is held by her many friends in this city. Those who were present and participated in the events of the evening were the Misses Pearl Carlisle, Anna Jenkins, Stella Wolfe, Florence Lewis, Mary Anton, Lizzie Elwood, Ada Storer, Nan Gee and Martha Maloy and the Messrs M. B. Mallory, William Anderson, Jack Brown, Lyman Wills, Frank Staby and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boyle."

Rev. Wright Absent

Rev. J. V. Wright went to Butler this morning to attend the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. There will be no preaching service in the M. E. pulpit Sunday as the conference will not come to a close until about Wednesday of next week.

HOW TO SAVE $100.

Buy your pianos at Frederick's. You will save $100 on the purchase of a piano, the same instrument that will cost you $100 more if you buy from another dealer. Why? W. F. Frederick operates over sixty stores and agencies. The largest piano concern between New York and Chicago. Buys the annual output of many instruments he is selling, and retails to the people at factory prices. We do not deal in cheap pianos. We are asking you the same price for a good piano, as you will pay for a worthless one, and think you are getting a bargain. Where is the guarantee? We guarantee all our instruments to be first-class, and stand by every word we say.

"Think a minute." Come to our store and we will help you make the selection of a piano that will be an ornament in your home. We will make the price satisfactory. Your old instrument taken in exchange.

Charged With Running Speak-Easy.

George Gurber will be given a hearing before Squire Jas. A. Watkins this evening on a charge of illegal liquor selling. Gurber was arrested by Chief Woolsey, last night, on information furnished by John Sepich.

Rise in the Monongahela.

A slight rise out of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers may furnish enough water to allow boats with empty tows to reach the Pittsburg harbor. Several of them was tied up a short distance down the Ohio river.
